

Hong Kong College of Anaesthesiologists
Final Examination
11th Feb 2000
Paper II SAQ

Answer outline suggested for short question papers

- Q1. Describe the relevant anatomy for insertion of a right internal jugular catheter.

- Q2. Outline the significant steps in a rapid sequence induction and the rationale for them in an adult patient who may have a full stomach.

- Q3. Outline the etiology of postoperative delirium in the elderly patient who was previously fit.

- Q4. Discuss the role of intraoperative trans-esophageal echocardiography.

- Q5. What are the major types of eye injury that can occur under anaesthesia? How would you minimize their occurrence?

- Q6. What is the implication of giving succinylcholine to relieve laryngospasm soon after extubation in a fit patient who has just received neostigmine and atropine? Outline your continued management of the sequelae

- Q7. Describe your technique of neurolytic coeliac plexus block via the posterior approach.

- Q8. What are the risks and precautions in the use of ketorolac for postoperative pain management.

- Q9. Outline the significant medical problems which should be assessed in a patient presenting for a renal transplant.